Charles Sultana matter finalised

Former NSW greyhound racing participant, Charles Sultana, has had his registrations disqualified for life following a conviction of seven (7) animal welfare charges on 2 May 2019.

Mr Sultana was charged by the RSPCA NSW after failing to provide veterinary treatment to 12 greyhounds for a number of conditions following two (2) inspections of his Marsden Park property in July 2018.

Mr Sultana entered a plea of guilty to all charges and was convicted before the Blacktown Local Court on 13 June 2019.

The Commission considered all evidence against Mr Sultana and after finding a charge under Rule 95(8)(a)(i) of the Commission's Greyhound Racing Rules proven, on 31 July 2019 took disciplinary action against Mr Sultana to disqualify his registrations for life.

Information relating to the Commission's disciplinary action decision can be found here.
